There was a young lady named Minna,

There was a nice girl named Viola,

MARKETING TOBACCO

Some Advice About Handling and Marketing New Crop

The Lexington Tobacco Association is mailing out the following letter of instructions to farmers which explains itself:

First—Do not strip your tobacco until the stems are thoroughly cured, as wet or swollen stems make it impossible to dry, and also prevents its selling for its full value.

Second—Under no circumstances sprinkle or put water on your tobacco to bring it in case, as it not only injures tobacco but prevents it being dried through a drier successfully, and necessarily forces the selling price down far below its real worth.

Third—Be careful to strip your tobacco and grade it so that each hand will contain only leaves of the uniform grade and color.

Fourth—Do not tie the hands too large; no that they can be dried out in going through a drier; and be sure to have the hands tied tightly so that the leaves will not be dropping out.

From all information we gather, we are led to believe that the crop is better this season than usual and if properly handled with care, we believe it will sell well.

TO THE YOUNG MAN.

Young man, do you realize that the presidential election this year will be determined by the young men?

If you do, then you will appreciate the great responsibility which has been thrust upon you!

Young man, at the very onset of your career you are brought face to face with a great crisis, and upon the answer which you will give will depend the future of the country for at least four years and perhaps for longer.

Young man, this is not the hour for emotionalism or for sentimentalism, but for solid sober thought. It is not the hour to be guided by likes and dislikes, by prejudices or passions, but by calm, cool reasoning. Your feet must be lighted on their way by the lamp of experience.

A great crisis confronts the nation and the future of that nation rests in your hands. Is not that brief statement of conditions sufficient to show you the necessity for sober thought?

For sixteen years this nation has been prosperous. Almost since your birth, every man who has wanted to earn a living by honest toil has been able to do so. The mills and the factories have been open; there has been no reason why a man should be out of employment; wages have been good, the hours of labor have been shortened and the conditions under which men and women work have been materially improved.

Young man, you have never known what hard times mean; you have never known what walking the street day after day in a vain search for work means; you have never known what to return home to the wife and babies without a penny in your pocket to buy them a meal means, you have never been forced to go to public soup-houses to get a meal for your self and your famishing family. All this has been spared to you through sixteen years of Republican prosperity. You have been able to find a good job at good wages whenever you wanted a change; you have always had money to buy good clothes with and to buy tickets to the theater and the ball games; you have always been able to put away a couple of dollars a week in the savings bank or the "ban-vercin" and you have been thrice blessed because thereof.

But, young man, ask your father or your mother whether this was always so; ask them of the struggles they had when you were a baby in arms to keep the wolves from the door, and to provide food and shelter; ask them about the hardships they had to endure in order that their little family might not suffer or become public charges.

Young man, ask your father and your mother if times were always prosperous, ask father if he could always get a good job at good pay for the asking. Do not accept good times as merely a matter of fact, something that always has existed and always will exist. Your parents will tell you that prosperity is fleeting; they can give you a page out of their experiences that will open your eyes.

Twenty years ago the people of this nation quarreled with prosperity and elected a Democratic administration in national affairs. A college professor named Wilson monkeyed with the tariff along free-trade lines and the factories and shops closed down. There were four years of hardship and then the people returned to the Republican party to power. The nation has known prosperity ever since.

Young man, the decision as to the future of the nation for the next four years rests with you. Those who lived through the hard times that the Wilson tariff law brought will continue to support the Republican party.

You can avert the crisis which is before the nation by learning from the past.

Young man, why change?—Commercial Tribune.

The votes are swinging to Taft rapidly. Business men are merely voting for continued good times when they vote for Taft.

Is Woodrow Wilson sincere? How can he pledge the business interests of the country to the gradual lowering of the when his platform pledges him to absolute Free-Trade?

Gov. McCreary has named October 8th, as "clean up" day. From what we can generally gather in the "wings of the wind" certain Eastern Kentucky gentlemen have already cleaned up everything worth while!—Fulton Leader.

Do the farmers of Preston county want their wool placed on the free list? This is a question for the wool growers to decide. They should consider it well and be certain what it means to them.—Kingwood (W. Va.) Journal.

If Woodrow Wilson knows as little about the science of government as he seems to know about the tariff system he will need more than one guide should he ever become President. He is a mere theorist—"a mechanism man."—Louisiana (Mo.) News.

The cost of living ought to be somewhat reduced this coming winter by the big harvest. Food at least should be cheaper. Wheat and flour have declined at first hands; so, too, have coffee and sugar. Fruits are plentiful, and a big potato crop is assured. As fodder is abundant and cheap, meat should later on decline from present high level.

COMING HOME TO THEM.

The Free-Traders of the sugar section of the Southern states have received the first real center-shot from the Free-Trade element of the Democratic party in the free sugar bill recently passed by the Democratic Congress. Free sugar would "knock the tar" out of the interest of the South. The South until recent years thought itself immune from the effects of Free-Trade because it produced very little of anything that came in contact with importations. The South used to exclaim, "Oh we don't care about winter—it never hits us." But in recent years winter blizzards have hit the South quite severely, and the people down there have changed their minds. They do care for and fear winter now. And they will care for trade when it hits them plunk between the eyes.—Greenville (O.) Courier:

"A WHOLE LOT BEATS A LITTLE."

TAFT DISCUSSES CAMPAIGN ISSUES

IN A NOTABLE INTERVIEW THE PRESIDENT TREATS OF THE TARIFF, TRUSTS, HIGH COST OF LIVING, WOMAN SUFFRAGE, RECALL OF JUDGES, IMMIGRATION AND GOV. WILSON.

PROTECTION RAISES WAGES

Thinks the Payne Law Has Enabled the American Worker to Meet the Cost of Living and Maintain His Family in Comfort—Every Able-bodied Man Willing to Work Has Work—City Hotels Thronged with Buyers and Farmers Never Better Off—Nothing Can Kill Prosperity But the Benumbing Glacier of Free Trade or a Wave of Anarchy.

President Taft, when in New York, September 24, gave a long interview to the newspapers in which he discussed fully the campaign issues.

This is the interview in part: "Mr. President, have you visited the 'Chamber of Horrors' in Union Square, where the burdens upon living under the high tariff are illustrated?"

"No, but a New York friend told me a little incident in regard to it worth remembering. According to the story told me, the exhibition includes a number of articles of clothing tagged with the prices, and an alleged statement of what the articles would cost with the tariff duties deducted. I understand that a number of establishments engaged in the manufacture of clothing are situated in the neighborhood, and a working man, evidently from one of those establishments, strolled at the noon hour into the exhibition. Looking about him he noticed a coat bearing a price tag, and identifying what the cost of the coat would be without a tariff duty. 'Why,' he remarked, 'that would bring the price of the coat lower than what I get for making one. At that rate where would I come in?' It is hardly necessary to say that he would not 'come in' at all, unless willing to work for one-half to one-third of his present pay for making a coat.

"The policy of the Republican party is not to shut out foreign manufactures, but to foster domestic manufactures and to keep the American workman employed.

"The tariff should be revised so far as may be necessary to keep prices from being exorbitant, so that, as I have explained in my speech of acceptance, the manufacturer shall secure only enough protection to pay the scale of high wages which obtains and ought to obtain in this country, and secure a reasonable profit from the business."

"What do you think, Mr. President, of the proposal of the third term party to control the trusts through Federal incorporation and regulation?"

"It would create the most monstrous monopoly of power in the history of the world—a power as much greater, as much more autocratic, than that of a Caesar or a Napoleon, as the business interests of the twentieth century are greater, more dominant and far reaching than those of two thousand or one hundred years ago.

"The Payne law has had no more to do with advancing the cost of living than the latest Atlantic cable tariff. On the contrary, it has enabled the American worker to meet the cost of living and maintain his family in comfort.

"Under the operation of that law prosperity has been gradually restored since the panic of 1907. Practically every able-bodied man who is willing to work has work, and in some of the large industrial centers, as well as in other parts of the country, the demand for labor far exceeds the supply. City hotels have been thronged with buyers from all sections of the Union, who report ready sales and empty shelves, and are eager purchasers of goods to replenish their stores. Farmers were never better off. Every legitimate industry is looking forward to still greater prosperity, provided the nation's progress shall not be halted by the benumbing glacier of free trade or the destructive lava stream of anarchy.

"I have not changed in the slightest my view as to the necessity of monetary reform, or of the great value and importance of the work done by the Monetary Commission, of which former Senator Aldrich was chairman.

"It is a reform necessary in the interest of all the people and must be carried through according to some practical and efficient plan that will remedy the gross inadequacy and marked imperfections of our banking and currency system.

"There has been no intervention in Nicaragua. Under conditions of anarchy, accompanied by acts of ruthless barbarity, American marines were landed at the request and with the consent of the lawful Government of Nicaragua to assist in protecting the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners. There was no invasion, no levying war. Common human dignity dictated the course that has been pursued.

"What is your attitude, Mr. President, on the woman suffrage question?"

"Suffrage for women is an issue to be decided by the States, and there can be no doubt whatever that whenever and wherever a majority of women impress upon their fathers, their husbands, sons, brothers and beaux that they want to vote they will get the right to vote."

"Do you regard the recall of judges, Mr. President, as an issue in this campaign?"

"I regard the maintenance of an independent judiciary as a supreme issue, and I thoroughly agree with the American Bar Association that the recall applied to judges would tend to deprive the public of judges of ability, character, high sense of duty and a due regard to enlightened public sentiment, and that such a judiciary is absolutely necessary to the existence of a constitutional democracy."

"What are your views, Mr. President, in regard to immigration?"

"There are both room and opportunity in the United States for immigrants of wholesome physique, industrious habits and good moral character. I hope that when the Panama Canal is opened the tide of immigration from Europe will flow through to the Pacific States, which are very sparsely settled in view of their vast extent and magnificent natural resources."

"It is reported, Mr. President, that Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, has sent out circulars to labor unions attacking your administration as hostile to organized labor."

"I have not seen the circulars you mention, but if the statement is correct Mr. Gompers is as much in error as he was four years ago, when he proposed to deliver the whole labor vote to Mr. Bryan.

"I appreciate," added Mr. Taft, "Gov. Wilson's courteous and respectful personal attitude toward my office and toward me. As to his statement about my being misled by 'bad advisers,' I wish him and every one to understand that I have been and will continue to the end of my term President of the United States in all that the title implies, that I am responsible for every act of my administration and have no burden to shift on others."

TAFT CONFIDENT OF RE-ELECTION

Convincing Indications That the Republican Party is Still Dominant

When President Taft was visiting his brother in New York a few days ago the newspaper reporters called upon him. After a pleasant chat the President made a formal statement of his views on the political situation:

"When I declared, a few weeks ago, that I felt reasonably sure of my own re-election in November, and the success of the Republican Party, I was regarded by some, as entirely over- sanguine, and unaware of the situation. Today, however, after a number of indications that the Republican Party is still the dominant party, and that the expected growth of Democratic strength has failed to materialize, my early declaration is shown to be entitled to respect. The Republicans necessarily will have a reduced majority over 1908 because of the presence of three tickets in the field, but the Democratic party will suffer, also. The combined strength of the Third Term party will not be enough to change the ultimate result.

"Five or six weeks ago it was asserted generally that the Republican Party would secure the vote of the Solid East, including all of the New England States, with the exception of Maine and Vermont that the Democratic Party would maintain its hold on the Solid South, and that the Third Term party would secure the Solid West, leaving only the Middle West as a debatable ground. Today, with the election still one month away, the Republican Party finds itself with a strengthened hold on the Solid East, having routed the Third Term party in Vermont, and the Democratic Party in Maine. The Third Term leaders recently conceded that we would pick the State of Utah out of the Solid West, and after conferring with Chairman Hill and others recently in the West, there is every reason to believe that the Republican Party will carry Michigan, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming. Moreover, if the proper kind of a campaign is waged, we will carry Oregon, Kansas and Minnesota, where the Third Term strength has rapidly waned since the recent tour through that section by the party's candidate.

"I am not familiar with the developments in other Western States, although many good reports have come to me at Beverly concerning them, but even with the States already mentioned it can be seen that there is no longer a Solid West back of the new party, but, more nearly, a Solid West reunited in support of the Republican ticket. This strength, added to the indisputable hold on the Eastern States, constitutes, in itself, a sufficient strength to give success to the party.

"It is scarcely necessary for me to point to the necessity of re-establishing a Republican majority in the House of Representatives. If this is done, I feel confident that I will be able to have placed on the statute books the workmen's compensation law which I urged upon the last session, but which was sent to oblivion by the Democratic House. If the country will give the Republican Party a complete victory in its congressional, as well as its Presidential, ticket, a proper tariff revision will be speedily effected, with knowledge of the facts ascertained by a tariff commission, which will harm no one and remove its present defects."

Gave Up Hope

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadbourne, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint. I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache."

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

For more than 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings, and making weak women strong and well. During this time, thousands of women have written, like Mrs. McPherson, to tell of the really surprising results they obtained by the use of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

Cardui strengthens, builds, restores, and relieves or prevents unnecessary pain and suffering from womanly troubles. If you are a woman, begin taking Cardui, today.

ROOSEVELT'S

Record Will Be a Feature of Forthcoming Issue of La Follette's Magazine

MADISON, Wis., October 24.—Senator La Follette will support Governor McGovern and the full Republican ticket in Wisconsin, he announces in La Follette's Magazine. He also makes the announcement that his publication will begin on October 5th, the story of Theodore Roosevelt's political record, in connection with which La Follette says he has endeavored to ascertain whether the former President "has left a straight or crooked trail." Senator La Follette says:

"Both the platform and the state ticket of the Republican party deserve the loyal support of Progressives in Wisconsin. Governor McGovern's sorry and ill-fated attempt to serve those influences that caused him to dip his fingers into the Roosevelt tar barrel at Chicago should not in this campaign be weighed against his record in the Governor's office—a record of earnest and faithful co-operation with the Legislature in carrying to fulfillment every pledge made in 1910. This record will be taken by Wisconsin Progressives as assurance of the same devotion to platform promises in the future."
